I sit in this cell and watch the sky
I live from hour to hour...refusing to die

That I will be forgotten is my only fear

VVA Chapter 20’s 30th Anniversary Dinner Celebration!
Donald Lynn Wann News reports this month from the National League of Families and the Defense POW/MIA Office (DPMO) have indicated that another American has been recovered and identified as Chief Warrant Officer 2 Donald Lynn Wann, US Army from Kosoma, OK.

On June 1, 1971, CW2 Wann, the Aircraft Commander on a AH1G Cobra gunship, was on a multi-aircraft mission supporting the emergency extraction of a Ranger team on Hill 1015 near Dong Tri, in Quang Tri Province, South Vietnam. Wann's gunship was to destroy some ammunition and ordinance left behind on the landing zone (LZ) as other helicopters extracted the teams. As the gunship made its pass, it was hit repeatedly by enemy anti-aircraft fire and crashed with the possibility of no survivors. The Hill was under heavy enemy fire and no recovery attempts could have been made at the time. CW2 Donald Lynn Wann was recorded as a MIA and in 1973 his status was changed to Killed/Body Not Recovered. From June 1-July 29, 2008 remains, life support items and personal effects were excavated from the crash site in the Ong Tri Mountain area of Quang Tri Province. On March 10, 2010, CW2 Wann’s remains were positively identified and returned to his family for burial with full military honors at the National Cemetery in Fort Gibson, OK.

There are 1713 Americans still listed by the DOD as Missing and unaccounted for from the Vietnam War.

There are also reports of the recovery and identification of the following: US Army Corporal Harry J. Reeves of Philadelphia, PA, who was reported missing in November 1950. His remains were recovered in Unsan, Korea in May 2004 and were identified on July 30, 2010.

US Army Air Corp Sgt. John P. Bonnassiolle of Oakland, CA, who was reported MIA April 29, 1944. His remains were recovered in East Meitze, Germany between 2005 and 2007 and identified in Aug. 2010.

Both Cpl. Reeves and Sgt. Bonnassiolle were returned to their families for burial with Full Military Honors.

For all these service men we welcome them home, and for their families, we send our condolences and prayers. Let it be known that we as a nation will hopefully never let our POW/MIA’s or their memories be forgotten and hope that they are someday returned to their families and a grateful Nation.

Veterans Advisory Committee

On July 15th, Ken Moore and Fred Elliott were appointed to the Monroe County Veterans Advisory Committee. According to the Committee’s Charter, the Committee’s Objectives are (a) to advise the executive branch of county government in the exercise of its duties as they apply to veterans’ interests within Monroe County, and (b) to provide support for the Director of the Veterans Service Agency with respect to the administration of the Monroe County Veterans Service Agency and through the Director shall advise the County Executive regarding veterans’ issues within Monroe County.

The Committee had its first meeting on July 30th so all the newly appointed members could meet each other. In addition to Ken and myself, the other appointees are: Hector Alvarado, Linda Andersen, Donald Bain, Betty Perkins Carpenter, Paul Ciminelli, Paul Cordy, Rick Gough, Rene VanMulem, and John Perrone.

The Director of the Monroe County Veterans Service Agency serves as an ex-officio member of the Committee. As an ex-officio member, the Director has the same rights as the other committee members, but is not obligated to attend meetings of the committee and is not counted in determining the number required for a quorum or whether a quorum is present.

There are also non-voting members of the Committee representing the Monroe County Department of Human Services, the Monroe County Office for the Aging, and the majority and minority parties of the Monroe County Legislature.
Gold Star Mom

The banner was small
But the star was large,
The color of a blue, night sky.
She hung it in the window
With trembling fingers
And tried hard not to cry.
He was so young to go far away
As all soldiers have to do.
She knew that danger
Lurked everywhere,
As she touched the star of blue.
The weeks went by
The months rolled on
She knew he would not die.
Her faith in God held her head up high.
In her heart she sang a song,
But the battles raged.
The news was not good
Why did so many have to die?
The thought made her cold
And she felt terribly old
As the day came that she faced
With dread.
When a knock on the door
Shattered her life evermore,
And the blue star turned to gold.

--Esther B. (Campbell) Gates (Written in memory of her son, Specialist Keith Allen Campbell)
“A flag may be a flimsy bit of gauze or a beautiful banner of the finest silk. It’s intrinsic value may be trifling or great; but it’s real value is beyond price, for it is a precious symbol of all that we have worked for, lived for, and died for, a nation of free men, true to the past, devoted to the ideals and practices of justice, freedom and democracy. Let these faded, unserviceable flags of our country be retired and destroyed with respect and honor. These flags have served our nation well and long, and are now worn to a condition such that they should no longer represent the nation.

"All mighty God, commander of all, bless and consecrate this ceremony. We thank you for our country and flag, and our liberty and freedom for which it stands. To the clean and purging flames we commit these flags, worn out in their worthy service. As they yield their substance to the fire, may thy Holy Light spread over us and bring to our hearts renewed devotion of God and country. Amen"

VA Hearing Aids/Eyeglasses Update 02:

The Department of Veterans Affairs must provide audiology and eye care services and hearing aids and glasses to military veterans with any compensable service-connected disability. Public Law 104-262, the Veterans Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996, changed eligibility laws to allow VHA to furnish prosthetic appliances to veterans. However, that law further provided that 15 VHA could not furnish sensori-neural aids (hearing aids and eyeglasses) except in accordance with guidelines that the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) prescribes.

Subsequently, the Department published regulations (Title 38 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), §17.149) in the Federal Register establishing such guidelines. In 2002, VHA issued Directive 2002-039 to establish uniform policy for the provision of hearing aids and eyeglasses.

It is now VHA policy that all enrolled veterans and those veterans exempt from enrollment are eligible for medical services that include diagnostic audiology and diagnostic and preventive eye care services, and that the prescription and provision of hearing aids and eyeglasses must be furnished to all eligible veterans in accordance with the parameters and criteria defined in VHA DIRECTIVE 2008-070 dt 28 OCT 08.

Full details of the directive can be viewed at http://www1.va.gov/vhapublications/ViewPublication.asp?pub_ID=1789

Veterans’ Chat and Homeless Chat

Veterans’ Chat and Homeless Chat are new ways the VA (through the National Veterans’ Suicide Hotline and the National Homeless Veterans’ Call Center) reach out to Veterans and Service Members who want information concerning Suicide Prevention and Homelessness prevention, but don’t really want to talk about it on the phone. The Veterans’ Chat has been in service since July 4th, 2009.

Chat services are completely anonymous and available 24 hours a day, every day. It’s another option to help our Veterans and Service Members find what they need from the VA, or to help when there does not seem to be any other place to turn. Everyone who enters the Chat Service talks one-to-one with a Hotline/Call Center Counselor using the computer web site.

Contact us, please visit our Chat Services at http://www.suicidepreventionlifeline.org/Veterans/Default.aspx or call us at 1-800-273-8255 (Hotline) or 1-877-4 AID VET (1-877-424-3838 - Homelessness Assistance)

The mission of My HealtheVet (MHV) is to improve health care for ALL veterans, independent of where they receive care, by providing health information and health assessments via the Internet. MHV is a web site designed for veterans and their families with the goal of optimizing veterans’ health care. It is for all veterans and offers additional services to those receiving care at VA medical centers.

MHV registrants will also be able to view appointments, co-pay balances and copies of key portions of their VA medical records online and much more as additional functionality is released. This is available to veterans, their families, veteran advocates and VA employees. Non-veterans are welcome to use many of the features, although they will not have access to all functions VA patients have.

You can access the website at www.myhealth.va.gov. You will need to register to use key features and will be assigned a User ID and Password for return visits. Please note that in order to access enhanced options of this website, you must complete an “In Person Authentication” (IPA) at your local VA facility. This step provides for confidentiality of your information and is required by The Privacy Act, Title 5 United States Code (U.S.C.) 552a, implemented by Title 38 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) §575-1.584.
Managing Your Medications or Where's Mom When I Need Her?

Medications can improve your health, but the more you are prescribed the easier it is to forget to take them. More than half of those aged 65 and older (only some of us, right?) take at least five different meds regularly and 25% take between 10 and 19 pills every day. It is estimated that over 60% of seniors prescribed more than four meds a day forget to take them and/or neglect fill their prescriptions on time.

This can lead to complications and even dire circumstances like hospitalization. Here are some tips to help you better manage your meds:

1. Keep medications in a common place, a location that makes them easy to spot. This will help remind you to take them.
2. Make sure to leave them in the original containers and out of sight and reach of children.
3. Alert yourself. Try setting an alarm or asking a trusted family member or friend to call to remind you to take your medications, especially if you have a new one added to your regimen.
4. Many pharmacies offer email refill reminders or automated refill programs. Ask your pharmacist about these options.
5. Keep a personal medication record. Write down all the meds you take, including over the counter drugs, vitamins and supplements. Share this list with your doctor and pharmacists to help reduce risks of drug interactions. Include on your list the name, dosage, frequency, how it is taken and the condition for which it was prescribed.
6. If you travel, consider time-zone changes. Ask your pharmacist how to adjust your schedule so you can avoid missing doses.

Using the Internet for Medical Information

There are hundreds, probably thousands of websites offering health-related information today. Many provide valuable information, while others may be unreliable or misleading. Please consider the following before trusting what you are reading:

1. Who pays for the site? The source of a website’s funding should be clearly stated or readily apparent. If they have multiple ads and links to other sites that reflect advertising, be cautious.

2. What is the purpose of the site? An About This Site, or About Us link usually exists. Use it and you should find a statement of purpose that will (or won’t) help you evaluate the trustworthiness of the site and its content.

3. Where does the information come from? If the person or organization in charge of the website did not create the information, a source should be listed. Medical facts and figures should have references (such as to articles in journals), and opinions or advice should be cleared set apart from evidence-based results.

4. How is the information selected? Is there an editorial board? Are people involved (in the About Us section) that are licensed professionals or have medical/scientific credentials?

5. How current is the information? Websites should be reviewed and updated regularly, especially those offering medical information. The most recent update or review date should be clearly posted.

6. What information about you does the site collect, and why? Websites routinely track the pages visited by users and many will ask you to subscribe or become a member. This may be to collect a user fee, but in any case will give the site personal information about you. Be certain you read and understand privacy policies and don’t sign up for anything you’re not sure you fully understand.

7. How does the site manage interactions with visitors? Somewhere on the site should be contact information (not just a link for the Webmaster). If there are chat rooms or other discussion areas, there should be something describing the Terms of Service. It’s a good idea to spend some time reading the discussions before considering posting so you feel comfortable becoming a participant.

Use the internet wisely. It’s very easy for anyone to create and maintain a website. Not everything on the internet is trustworthy. Don’t forget that your doctor’s office remains one of the best resources you can have. The internet can supplement that interaction, but should never replace it.

THE BIG READ 2010

The Things They Carried by Tim O’Brien

The Big Read 2010 for Rochester, is a program of the National Endowment for the Arts and locally supported and organized by Writers and Books. It is designed to revitalize the role of literary reading in American popular culture. The Big Read brings communities together to read, discuss, and celebrate books and writers from American and world literature.

The book chosen for 2010 is The Things They Carried, by Tim O’Brien. An extensive calendar of events has been created for the months of October and November, and our Chapter has been invited to participate in as many as possible. Details of specific Chapter-related events will be communicated in the October BTL as well as on our Facebook page and email list.

Events range from book discussions to movies, chess tournament, softball game for Vietnam-era veterans, and of course, a presentation from the author himself on November 4th and 5th. A more detailed calendar will be printed in the October issue of the BTL, and the information is also available on the Writers and Book website, http://www.wab.org/.
Ron Trovato, a confused yet ruggedly handsome Vietnam vet, enters the office of Regional V.A. Director, H.R. Walters. His mission, which is to annihilate the V.A.’s massive red tape, only enhances his phenomenal good looks. He approaches Walters’ rather attractive secretary.

Trovato: Hi ya toots! Need a man?

Secretary: You must be Mr. Trovato from Rochester. We’ve been expecting you.

Trovato: My friends call me Ronbo.

Secretary: O.K. Ronbo. You look a little puny to be in the same league as Rambo.

Ronbo: Well, I’ve been on a 675-day hunger strike to get Mr. Walters’ attention. I want to discuss the V.A. bureaucracy which is strangling the Veterans Outreach Center in Rochester.

Secretary: Mr. Walters couldn’t meet with you earlier because the Secret Service informed him that you have a criminal record.

Ronbo: I hardly think that an eighth grade student court decision could be construed as...

Secretary: Be that as it may, Mr. Walters has agreed to meet with you.

Walters: You are quite mistaken. My whole career has been dedicated to cutting through governmental red tape. I don’t want to talk about it, but I remember the time in ’67 when I served in Vietnam as Westmoreland’s aide. Westy ordered me to cut through the military red tape and develop a plan to relieve Khe Sanh. By the early 1970’s I had already presented a detailed plan for the amphibious assault on NVA forces in the mountains surrounding Khe Sanh. My plan was quite innovative if I do say so myself.

Ronbo: I thought you said you cut through red tape?

Walters: Then there was the time I was working at the Bay Pines V.A. Hospital in St. Petersburg developing programs for geriatric Vietnam vets. I was sitting at my desk reading V.A. Regulation 659-8C, when suddenly it occurred to me that the clarity of 659-8C would be made infinitely more understandable with the inclusion of another V.A. form which I called V.S. Regulation 659-8C Addendum A. Now this form was a much-needed explanation of the bookbinding of 659-8C in its entirety. I also noted that the bookbinding on V.A. Regulation 396-2D was of inferior quality so I got Stockman on the phone and...

Ronbo: (Taking a deep pull of his official Rambo combination flask-grenade launcher) Yo!! Adrian!!

I had the honor and privilege to welcome back a returning soldier on Sat, July 31, at a welcome party at Seneca Park. The Patriot Guard Riders, [of which I am a member and so is her father], were invited to help welcome back Sgt Suzie Hicks. Sgt Hicks just returned from her fourth tour in Iraq. She is one month away from completing 8 yrs in the army as an MP and is leaving the service to continue her education.

It was truly an honor to welcome home this modern day warrior. On behalf of VVA 20, I presented her with a “Vets Connect” challenge coin and a “Welcome Home” letter. She was very appreciative. Her mom was moved to tears.

Honeoye Falls Soldier Earns Bronze Star

John “Chris” Briggs of Honeoye Falls a retired RPD officer with the K-9 Unit was notified that his son Staff Sergeant David Briggs received the Bronze Star for his bravery in Afghanistan. David enlisted in the service after graduating from Honeoye Falls/Lima. David is career Army, serving one tour in Iraq, and just finishing his tour of Afghanistan.

David lives in Colorado with his wife Damian, his son Andrew, and daughter Lennon.

The citation reads as follows:

The Bronze Star Medal

TO

STAFF SERGEANT DAVID C. BRIGGS

Staff Sergeant David C. Briggs, United States Army, distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service to the United States as a Military Police squad leader assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company 4D Brigade Special Troop Battalion, 4D Infantry Brigade Combat Team from 25 May 2009 to 20 May 2010 in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Staff Sergeant Briggs was responsible for the health, welfare, and training of 21 Soldiers composed of 4 different military occupational specialties ranging from combat arms to combat service support. Staff Sergeant Briggs has an exceptional ability to train and mentor his Soldiers. He swiftly transformed them into the finest squad within the Roughneck platoon by constant training, rehearsals, and always implementing lessons learned from AAR’s after each mission. He superbly led his squad on more than 200 mounted and dismounted patrols in an area encompassing over 7,727 square kilometers with zero accidents or incidents.

Staff Sergeant Briggs superior skills and abilities were made apparent on 18 June 2009 when his joint convoy was hit by an Improvised Explosive Device, the Afghanistan National Police vehicle in the front of his convoy was destroyed and 4 ANP where critically wounded. SSG Briggs leapt into action and immediately directed his Soldiers to do 525 meter checks for additional IED’s then into a 360 degree perimeter around the site. SSG Briggs and his Soldiers were able to pull the ANP out of the burning vehicle and immediately render first aid until they were able to be moved from the kill zone to the next level of care. SSG Briggs displayed his strict enforcement of discipline and standards by keeping the required distance between vehicles during movement which undoubtedly prevented any Coalition vehicles being hit also. His quick and decisive actions indisputably saved the lives of all 4 ANP and was worthy of emulation by seniors, peers, and subordinates alike.

Staff Sergeant Briggs worked with District Governors, Police Chiefs, Maliks and Mullahs in 3 separate districts to facilitate the fair disbursement of project funds to over 50 distinct tribes with the intention of significantly improving their quality of life without causing disputes among them. Staff Sergeant Briggs was instrumental in identifying over 70 polling sites for the Afghanistan national elections in August 2009. He personally analyzed each location and addressed various security issues in order for the local civilian populace of over 833,000 to be able to proceed with the election process without fear of attacks from the AAF. Attributable to SSG Briggs effort, not 1 polling site dependent upon him was attacked.
